

ILLINOIS STUDENTS STORM CITY JAIL

Effort Made to Rescue Two Men Arrested for Rioting.

MAYOR IS CHASED TO SHELTER

Several Are Hurt During the Celebration of Victory Over Iowa.

By United Press.
CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Nov. 9.—One thousand students of the University of Illinois, celebrating the victory of their football team over Iowa, Saturday night battled with the police, hurled bricks at Mayor Blaine and chased him to shelter, injured several persons and finally attempted to storm the city lockup, where two of their companions had been imprisoned.

George Morton, superintendent of streets, was struck on the head by a brick and badly hurt, and Policeman Goble received a wound in the face. The heads of several students came in contact with policemen's clubs but the rioters took their injured from the field of combat without their names becoming known.

The fight started when the students attempted to storm the Walker Opera House, where a vaudeville show was in progress. A squad of city police responded to a riot call, and a lively battle ensued. Walter Jones, pole vaulter on the track team, and Albert Jones, a Junior student, were seized by the officers.

RAIN AND HAIL ADD INSULT TO ALREADY BERUFFLED DRAKES

Cloudy Tonight and Tuesday, Not Much Change in Temperature, Is Forecast.

The Weather Man added insult to injury today when he poured forth rain and hail on the already beruffled Drakes. They received a rough ducking at the hands of the Tigers Saturday, but the Weather Man is not yet satisfied.

The official forecast is: "Partly cloudy tonight and Tuesday; not much change in temperature."

The temperature at 7 a. m. was 35 degrees; at noon, 45.

'BUSTER' CAROTHERS SLEEPS IN BERTH 13 AND IS OUT OF GAME

He Said He Wasn't Superstitious But Changed His Mind at Des Moines.

"Buster" Carothers, understudy for "Easy" Anderson as the Tigers' left guard, is firmly convinced that a hoo-doo is attached to number 13.

"Buster" drew berth 13 in the Tiger special going to Des Moines. He scorned the idea that he could be superstitious.

At Des Moines, however, he changed his mind. He was anxious to play in the game against Drake, but got a chance only on the last two downs, after Anderson went out. Coming home "Buster" slept uneasily in the same berth, because none of the Tigers would trade with him.

DR. HILL MIGHT HAVE BEEN CLERK AT $60 PER

Offer From Country Store Once Tempted Him to Quit Teaching.

An offer of a $60-a-month clerkship in a country store to Dr. A. Ross Hill, President of the University of Missouri, when he was a country school teacher almost caused him to abandon the profession of teaching, he said in a talk at the Central High School, Kansas City. Dr. Hill had told the pupils not to be hasty in deciding on a calling.

"Your views will change as you grow older," he said, "and you will be able to decide more wisely. Don't permit an attractive offer to divert you from the broader purposes in life."

"After you finally have decided on a profession don't take a short cut in learning. Don't be narrow in your preparations. Have due regard for the fundamentals and don't consider only the technical training."—Kansas City Star.

ORIENTAL STUDENTS ARE HOSTS TO 200

Guests Are Received by Usher in Costume of Imperial Chinese Guard.

WHITE DOVES ARE FAVORS

Japanese Sing National Hymn—"Missouri, Banzai!" is the Yell.

By an usher dressed in the uniform of an ancient guard of the Imperial Chinese palace, more than 200 teachers and young men and women of the University of Missouri were welcomed to the Oriental entertainment of the Cosmopolitan Club in the University women's parlors Friday evening.

The rooms were decorated for the occasion from one corner to another with national flags, between which were hung many white doves made of paper and Chinese and Japanese hand-painted scrolls of various colors. A Japanese student appeared in the full kimono of a Japanese dignitary, and a Chinese wore a bright crepe silk gown of silvery color, over which was a blue vest with embroidered ornaments hanging from the buttonholes.

Music and Speeches.

A unique program, arranged by Toda Cho, was carried out successfully. "Pekin," composed by a Chinese graduate of an American university, was played by James G. Ware of China and a Japanese solo was sung by June Ikida. J. V. DeLeon of the Philippines, Wilmot Boone of China, and Akamatsu of Japan entertained by speeches and by telling stories of their own lands.

When the Japanese students sang their national hymn, all arose and stood until the close of the song. The meeting closed with the singing of America and the yelling of: "Missouri, Banzai! Banzai! Banzai!" which was interpreted "Long live Old Missouri!"

Favors for the Guests.

An informal reception was held after the meeting and the guests were shown around the rooms by Edward Felgate of China who explained the various Oriental articles and curios on the tables. The departing guests were invited to carry home the pretty white doves, emblems of peace. These doves were the work of Tome Kitagawa, chairman of the decoration committee.

Toda Cho, acting president of the Cosmopolitan Club during the absence of Dr. Carl C. Eckhardt, told a reporter for the University Missourian that he wished to thank the many friends of the club who had to leave on account of lack of room. The Europeans will have the next meeting in charge and President Cho invites their friends to come out as they did last Friday evening.

DR. SCHORER ASSEMBLY SPEAKER FOR TOMORROW

"Some Common Causes of Death" Will Be Subject of Discussion.

Dr. E. H. Schorer of the Department of Medicine will talk about "Some Common Causes of Death" at the assembly in the Auditorium of the University of Missouri tomorrow morning. The assembly will begin at 10 a. m.

Dr. Schorer has the gift of making medical discussions interesting to the "layman," and the assembly tomorrow is expected to be one of the best of the series.

Prof. B. F. Hoffman Lectures.

Prof. B. F. Hoffman spoke in the University auditorium yesterday afternoon on "The Modern Goliath." He told the story of the Goliath of old and then drew a comparison between that giant and what he termed the Goliath of the present—the liquor traffic. As the Goliath of ancient times met his David, so Prof. Hoffman predicted that the Goliath of today will also be conquered.

To Settle Freak Bet.

An election bet is to be settled tomorrow morning at assembly hour, when F. P. Leiuallen, treasurer of the Bryan-Cowherd Club, will push G. H. Boehm, vice-president of the Taft-Hadley Club, in a wheelbarrow from the Baptist church to the postoffice.

Medical Society Meets.

The Medical Society of the University of Missouri held its monthly meeting in the Medical building Friday night. Dr. Woodson Moss, Dr. Walter McNab Miller, R. B. Hill and L. G. Lowry were the speakers. Ten minutes was allowed for the discussion of each paper.

U. OF M. STUDENTS PREFER FICTION

Growth of Library is Shown in Figures Compiled by H. O. Severance.

ANNUAL CIRCULATION 106,104

Readers Frequently Turned Away for Want of Seating Room.

For reading outside of school hours, students of the University of Missouri prefer fiction, according to figures for one typical week, compiled by H. O. Severance, University librarian. The estimated annual circulation of the library, based on records kept for the week beginning Oct. 26, is 106,104 volumes, the largest in the history of the library. Of this total, 14,520 books are issued annually for home use and 91,584 for use in the reading room of the library.

The library has grown so that students are frequently turned away for want of seating room between 10 and 11 a. m. It is not uncommon to see six or eight students during the crowded period standing by windows reading books and magazines.

Circulation for Week.

The total number of books circulated in the week of which record was kept was 2,864, divided as follows:

Books for use in the room..... 1,436
Books used in the reference collection (estimated)..... 1,000
Books issued for over-night use..... 108
Books issued for home use..... 320

The following table shows the circulation for the last seven years:

	Home use.	Room use.
1901-02.....	5,564	42,800
1902-03.....	10,381	34,990
1903-04.....	11,010	37,233
1904-05.....	11,481	40,302
1905-06.....	7,605	58,804
1906-07.....	(no data)
1907-08.....	14,520	91,584

Registered Borrowers.

The number of registered borrowers Oct. 26 was 347. Of this number 130 are faculty members and 217 students. Number of books out of the library Oct. 26, 1,202.

To faculty members..... 756
To students..... 430
To citizens..... 16
Number of books issued for home use during the week, 320.
To faculty members..... 124
To students..... 191
To citizens..... 5

Classes of Books Read.

Books issued for reading room use during the week:

American literature..... 43 vols.
English literature..... 159 vols.
Education..... 339 vols.
Economics, Political Science..... 281 vols.
History..... 359 vols.
Science..... 111 vols.
Miscellaneous..... 139 vols.

Books issued for home use:
Fiction, all classes..... 94 vols.
Philosophy..... 11 vols.
History..... 11 vols.
Biography..... 18 vols.
Education..... 2 vols.
Mathematics..... 2 vols.

Authors Represented.

The following authors are represented in American Literature: Louise Alcott, G. B. Brown, Bryant, Cooper, Hawthorne, Riley, Thoreau, Van Dyke. English Literature: Chaucer, Coleridge, Dryden, George Eliot, Keats, Lytton, Milton, Tennyson, Scott, Stevenson. French Literature: Daudet, Dumas, Hugo. German Literature: Goethe and Schiller. Russian Literature: Tolstoi.

The circulation of popular fiction was larger this week than usual as the books given the library by the University Book Club were put into circulation only a few days ago.

The number of readers in the library during the week is indicated by the following:

Average, at 10 a. m., 118.
Average, at 3 p. m., 70.
Average, at 5:30 p. m., 35.
Average, at 8 p. m., 85.

The largest number in the room at 10 a. m. was 168, at 8 p. m. was 156. This is an increase over last year of about 15 per cent. The number of readers last year was about 50 per cent greater than the year before.

Official election returns show the defeat of Marshall E. Burke, Republican, alumnus of the University of Missouri, for member of the house of representatives from Linn county, by fifty-two votes.

TIGERS WHIP DRAKE UNIVERSITY TEAM BY A SCORE OF 11 TO 8, COMING FROM BEHIND IN BITTERLY CONTESTED GAME

ABSENT TREATMENT HELPED THE TIGERS

Loyal "Rooters" Cheer Team As Missourian's Bulletins Are Read.

CHRISMAN LEADS THE YELLING

Hats Are Thrown Away As Missouri's Victory is Announced.

If there is anything in the "absent treatment" theory, the "rooting" done in the Auditorium Saturday afternoon was a big help to the Tigers in winning the game with Drake. The Auditorium was crowded with "rooters," and the hall rang with yells for the Tigers from the time the team went on the field at Des Moines until the final score was announced here—and then there was some more yelling.

The bulletin service was furnished free by the University Missourian, which had a reporter on the field at Des Moines. Bulletins were received about five minutes apart, giving the plays just as they were being made there, so that the "fans" in Columbia were able to follow the players through the game.

Poor Telegraph Service.

Owing to the inadequate service of the Western Union Telegraph Company, the first bulletin, which left the Stadium at 2:35, just five minutes after play had begun, was not received here until 3:35. The company had no wire to the field, and the telegrams had to be carried three and a half miles to the office by messenger boys.

O. D. Chrisman, yell leader, read the bulletins to the crowd in the Auditorium and kept them cheering for the Tigers between bulletins.

It was an eager crowd that gathered to hear the report of the game, and it was enthusiastic from start to finish. The strain on some was rather severe. When the first report came showing Missouri gaining, with a good prospect for a touchdown, it was difficult for some to sit still and wait, even for two or three minutes, until the outcome of the play was told.

Siren Whistled Imitated.

When the touchdown was announced the crowd went wild. Everyone stood up and yelled as loud as he could. Some threw their hats away. One engineer probably has a sore head today as the result of the way in which the news affected two friends sitting behind him who happened to have books in their hands. One student showed his joy by giving a good imitation of the siren whistle at the power house.

Chrisman was interrupted many times in reading the bulletins by outbreaks

"TUBBY" DROPS HIS PANTS FROM TRAIN

Another Player Saves Him From Wearing a Barrel Home.

"BOOCH" MISTAKEN FOR TIGER

And the Waitress Insisted He Should Drink Only Milk.

If one of the Tigers had not taken an extra pair of trousers to Des Moines, "Tubby" Graves might have come home in a barrel. On the return trip when the train was about two miles out of the city, "Tubby" had the pleasant experience of watching his pants slide out of the window of the coach as he was preparing to climb into his berth. A gold watch and $35 were in the pockets.

"Tubby" at once informed the rest of the players in picturesque language of what had happened. After they had broken the bell cord in frantic signaling, the train slowed down and "Tommy," the team's rubber, jumped off to look for the trousers. "Tommy" came home on a later train after a fruitless search up and down the track. The Tigers arrived at 8:15 yesterday morning.

"Booch" and the Waitress.

"Booch" Venable, who accompanied the Tigers, was rather surprised to find when he arrived in Des Moines that orders had been issued that he should drink milk. When he sat down to breakfast with the players Friday morning, the waitress brought him the same order that members of the squad received. The breakfast looked good to him, except the milk.

"I want coffee," said "Booch." "You can't have it," said the waitress.

Then it dawned upon "Booch" that he was being mistaken for one of the players. He accordingly hunted up Coach Monilaw, and had the order that he should drink nothing but milk annulled.

of enthusiasm, such as "Go it, Alex," "Go it, Driver," "Good boy, Nee," "Go through 'em, Tubby," "Hurrah for Death," "Step on 'em, Puny," "Keep goin', Gill," "Nice workin', Driver," "Eat 'em up, Tigers."

Between bulletins the Missouri yells were given, and each of the players was given the nine "rahs" or the "long L." When the team was in a tight place, they were encouraged by "Duck the Drake," "Kill the Drake," "Eat the Drake," and "Hold the line."

Hoodoo of Three Previous Defeats at Hands of Iowans is Overcome by Missouri on Field at Des Moines.

SPECTACULAR OPEN PLAY IS CHIEF FACTOR IN VICTORY

Driver Takes Ball Twenty Yards for Deciding Touchdown.

By a Staff Correspondent with the Tigers.

With defeat staring them in the face at the end of the first half, the Missouri Tigers returned to the attack at Des Moines Saturday with renewed vigor and fighting spirit and overcame the ancient Drake University hoodoo, winning by a score of 11 to 8. It was the first time in four annual games that a Missouri team has crossed the Drake goal line and the first defeat that the Iowans have suffered this season.

The teams trotted on the field shortly before 2:30 o'clock, the Tigers wearing the blankets presented by the Engineering students. A crowd of 3,000 was in the stadium. A dozen loyal Missouri "rooters," who had come from Columbia in the fashion of the Quo Vadis club, cheered lustily for the Tigers. The field was swept by a strong wind from the northwest.

Spectacular Open Play.

Brilliant and spectacular open work marked the play of the Tigers. Missouri's first score came after six minutes of play. After the Tigers, on straight football, had taken the ball to Drake's seven-yard line, Gilchrist went over for a touchdown. Driver missed goal by a narrow margin.

Drake's eight points were scored in the first half on two field goals by McCoy, the Drake captain and right half back. Both were kicked with the wind. Missouri's goal in this half was never seriously in danger of being crossed for a touchdown, Drake only once getting the ball within the fifteen-yard line.

Forward Pass Used.

Drake on straight line bucking succeeded in making first down only three times during the game, but in the second half worked the forward pass twice for an aggregate gain of thirty-seven yards. Missouri excelled at line bucking, being held for downs but three times. Both teams punted frequently, McCoy doing the "booting" for Drake and Alexander for the Tigers. McCoy had the better of the duel, partly because the wind was at his back most of the time.

The first half ended with the score 8 to 5 in favor of Drake. Missouri came back with the same fighting spirit that characterized the play against the Iowa Hawkeyes. Half a dozen times the ball was pushed to within striking distance of the Drake goal, only to be lost on fumbles or poorly executed forward passes. Driver, Alexander and Gilchrist starred in ground gaining at this stage.

Driver Breaks Through.

In the middle of the second half, with the ball on Drake's twenty yard line, Driver smashed through the line, shook off two Drake men between him and the goal and crossed the line for the winning touchdown. He added a point by kicking goal, making the score 11 to 8 in favor of the Tigers. After that the Tigers' goal was never in danger. Nearly all of the play in this half was in Drake territory.

Drake suffered most through penalties, losing eighty-five yards in this manner. A thirty-five-yard penalty was imposed after one of the Iowans had "slugged" Nee.

Missouri players said the game was the roughest in which they have taken part this year. Gilchrist was carried off the field after being struck in the chest. He was able to walk after reaching Columbia.

DETAILS OF PLAY SHOW GAME WAS HARD-FOUGHT

Drake won the toss. Bluck kicked off against the wind to Purdy, who returned five yards. Drake was penalized five yard for off-side. McCoy kicked to center of field.

Nee went five yards around end. Bluck fumbled to Drake. McCoy gained three yards around end. McCoy kicked to Deatherage on the Tigers' ten-yard line. Deatherage returned fifteen yards. Al-
